Remembered for his love of the water, sense of adventure and big heart, Andrew Connor Brown, sadly passed away in a sudden, tragic commercial diving accident in Prince Rupert, British Columbia on October 16th, 2018 in his 26th year.

A graduate of Holland College's commercial diving program in Charlottetown PEI, as well as a certified welder, Connor was a free spirit who was happiest when surrounded by his family and friends. Adventurous, mischievous and determined, his open-heart and loyalty touched the lives of many.

We hope you can join us as we celebrate and remember Connor, while raising money for two very important causes to Connor and The Brown family.

ORCA

Oceans Research and Conservation Association (ORCA) is a registered Canadian charity dedicated to protecting the oceans. They are a team of scientists on a mission to promote sustainability and to protect marine life, including whales, dolphins, sharks, salmon & seabirds, in Canada and beyond. Co-founded by Erin Ashe and Rob Williams, Oceans Initiative is ORCA's keystone marine conservation project.
